This bright coloured drum is great for early toddlers and later. If you are looking for accuracy of a drum sound this is not the toy to use. If you are looking for the opportunity to allow the child to play a musical instrument and have fun with music, then this is the toy for you.

CHILDREN AND PLAY: Children of all ages love music. With the help of a couple of more instruments you could have a little band. Children will make their own music with the drum and they will likely make up their own words.
